The farm house

Our farm situated on the hills near Trevi, a small but beautiful town, was founded with the intention to exploit the cultivation of olive trees and the production of extra vergin olive oil. Among these sevenhundred olive trees, in a unique and sunny position, there also was an old decadent house with outbuildings. It can be presumed that the central part of the house which has been preserved in its original brick construction, dates back to the end of the 15th century when it has been used as a country chapel. At the beginning of the last century it has been enlarged transforming the whole structure into a farm which has now been accurately restored maintaining its original style and thus giving rise to our holiday farm-house "Fiordaliso". You will find a combination of deeply rooted agricultural aptitude and accurate hospitality experienced in various sectors and surroundings. The languages spoken are English, French and German and you will be welcomed with utmost attention and courtesy helping to transform your stay in Umbria into a pleasant holiday immersed in nature, culture and relaxation. The central position of our farm-house "Fiordaliso" overlooking the Umbrian Valley, the proximity to free-time-facilities and the many tourist itineraries of great interest - such as Spoleto, Assisi, Gubbio, Todi, Orvieto, Perugia which can be visited in a one-day-tour - complete the value and the pleasantness of our tourist offer.

About Trevi

Trevi is only one kilometer away from our holiday farm-house "Fiordaliso". The broad expanse of olive trees is the scenery which accompanies the slopes around Trevi situated on a hill overlooking the Spoleto plain. The surroundings of Trevi are famous for the highly esteemed olive-growings, due to the quality of the ground on which the olive trees are planted, as well as for its vineyards and its wine production, especially of the Trebbiano wine. Trevi has maintained its mediaeval style offering well conserved constructions and charming angles. The Cathedral of S. Emiliano keeps part of the original Romanesque construction (12th century), inside is the altar of the Sacrament, an elegant work of Rocco da Vicenza (1522). The Gothic Church of S. Francesco dates back to the 13th century; inside there are frescos created in the 14th and 15th century. The picture gallery shows a valuable collection of Umbrian paintings. Trevi is certainly one of the most characteristic towns in Umbria for its panoramic and picturesque position and its history rich in events. In 1784 Trevi received the title of town conferred by Pope Pio XI. In the south between Trevi and our holiday farm-house "Fiordaliso", there is the Renaissance Church of S. Maria delle Lacrime where you will find the last painting of Perugino (1522), its "Adoration of the Three Kings of Orient with Sts. Peter and Paul". In Borgo Trevi you can visit the Church of S. Vincenzo Ferreri, whereas the Church of S. Maria in Pietrarossa with frescos of the 14th century is near the main road Via Flaminia towards Foligno.
